NOTE FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: Dave Gries

SUBJECT: Meetings with Congressmen

1. With your approval I would like to set up a series of small meetings with Members starting in mid-March.

-One or two breakfasts weekly, depending upon your schedule, with two or three Members in attendance. We should try to hold two or three such breakfasts before the 26 March Easter recess.

-An occasional meeting for cocktails for two or three Members in Room #2 (the smallest room they have) on the fourth floor of the Metropolitan Club. A few such sessions before the Easter recess would also be helpful.

2. If you agree, I will try to put this together. Among those on the House side you should meet with are Stokes, Beilenson, McCurdy, Roe, McHugh, Cheney, Addabbo, Murtha, McDade and Hyde. On the Senate side you should meet with Cohen, McConnell, Hecht, Hatch, Boren, Bradley, Nunn, Bentsen, Kasten, Stevens, Garn and Inouye. Our focus, of course, should be on Stokes, Cheney, Cohen and Boren. It will take time to schedule all these meetings, but it is important to make the effort.

3. I recommend against fixed agendas or special briefers for these sessions. The objective is to promote your personal relationships with Members, and to accomplish this I think you should be alone, with me along only to see to arrangements and fill in any slow points in the conversation.
